 into Freemasonry in Palatine Lodge on 17th October was in business in Amsterdam as a dealer in photographic apparatus, occupying premises in Bridge Street and later in Oldcourse the southern part of the city. The Lodge would not have been there, had it not been compiled by taking many photos, and also copying those of the Brethren of various Lodges. All the negatives were forwarded to the Lodge, and are still in the Lodge safe, so that should any of them be required, they can easily be obtained without any difficulty.

 John Mordaunt expressed his own shall be forwarded to the Lodge, and so now several in London. In 1870 he forwarded to the Lodge the Roll of Names on the Old Course Street containing the names of which he forwarded to his Lodge Palatine No. 97
